Great Day and Peace: from the Father, Son, & Holy Spirit!!!

May this letter clarify any misunderstanding ya'all may have concerning just exactly what I AM offering. In the kingdom of God there shall be no evil, this means that all of the choices that man cannot, and will not make concerning what is right and just, shall be made by God. If you do not like this, then you are free to go and create your own world and run it as you wish. Good luck with that, mighty man.

There shall be no death or taxes. Everyone is required to work and participate in the building and management of the kingdom. Food, Shelter, Utilities, Education, Healthcare, and Transportation shall be provided. All things shall be of the highest quality, preservation, conservation, and efficiency shall be the guiding principles.

All Gods' children deserve the best and they shall have it.

Whomsoever that does not agree to this shall be placed in the lake of fire.

All governing bodies shall be under direct Authority of His Majesty, the most high God.

All decisions made by God shall be final and eternal.

God is always right.

Any questions, just ask.
