Good Day and Peace,

In transition from centralist to decentralization, there must remain continuity throughout the government. In order to eliminate the arguing and the ill effects of it; Cease to blame one another and accept your responsibilities, it is not your position to bring my attention to another's faults, especially when you fail to acknowledge your own. It also makes me feel like you think; I don't know the difference between heaven and hell. I claim the name; I accept the responsibilities and the faults that come with them. My children are innocent, the blame rests with me. Address your concerns with my office; keep your personal opinions to yourself. The election is in November, the Presidents term is not up until January, that's four and a half months to save and change the lives of 7 billion + living souls.

I wish to be crystal clear, Mitt and Paul, go back home, and mind your own business, we got this under control.

We the People.
